Office of Legislative Counsel

9 September 1957

Learning that neither Gene Wilhelm nor Kenneth Sprankle of the House Appropriations Committee were available, I suggested to Saunders that he might be in touch with some of his acquaintances on the Committee. He called back advising that his contacts were not in town and suggested that Paul Wilson was the proper person with whom to discuss the various details. This information was passed to Mr. [REDACTED] with a suggestion that he deal directly with Wilson in the various details keeping in mind that the Agency would want to be reimbursed for any detail. [REDACTED] was requested to advise of the eventual results.
